中华街与旧港

077

Incheon Chinatown South Korea

Explore Chinatown's gateways and restaurant streets, then continue through the old port area. The neighbourhood is closely connected to the opening of Incheon Port in 1883. Plan your visit: Begin near Incheon Station and explore the heritage streets in a compact walking route. Some streets climb uphill. A jjajangmyeon meal can be part of the visit, but compare restaurant menus rather than choosing only by the longest queue.

Jeondeungsa Temple Ganghwa Incheon

Set aside a separate trip for this wooded temple within Samnangseong Fortress. Expect walking and changes in level, and keep temple halls quiet during worship. Plan your visit: Ganghwa is a separate excursion from Songdo or the airport. Give the temple approach and grounds adequate time and dress for sloping paths. Plan the return connection before visiting, especially if you are relying on buses rather than a car.

Abai Village Sokcho

Explore a neighbourhood shaped by refugees from northern Korea. Its local food and hand-pulled Gaetbae ferry are part of the experience; check whether the ferry is running when you arrive. Plan your visit: Explore the waterfront lanes and local food with time to understand the village's displaced-family history. The gaetbae crossing, if operating, is a separate small transport experience. Keep nearby residential doors clear and plan a short walk around your meal.

A waterfall walk is one possible way to experience the national park without making the entire day about a summit. Check the currently open route and allow for steps and uneven surfaces. Leave the trail while there is enough daylight for the return transfer.

完整指南

Cheongchoho Lake

102

Cheongchoho Lake Sokcho

Take a gentler walk beside this lagoon in the city. Choose a manageable section of the waterfront rather than assuming a complete circuit will fit before your return bus. Plan your visit: Choose a waterside section near your accommodation or final meal. The lake gives a calmer city stop after a mountain day. Do not assume you need to complete a full circuit to enjoy the view.
